Can Family Budgets Survive?

The Bank of America recently ran a tape on "what happened to the family budget?" and, as everybody knows, the budget is failing.

Housewives cannot remember another time when the gap between need and ability to pay was so great.

No housewife needs a bank to tell her that rising costs are really running rampant in the economy. Some of the pressures being applied by President Nixon are designed to stop the spiral — not only on the family pocketbook outgo but the total economy.

When the spiral top-off comes, there will still be a wide gap between income and costs, but citizens will not be in as unhappy a state as they are now with prices rising faster than income — and with fixed incomes shaving some living standards almost to poverty levels.

BoA says that the dollar that was in vogue ten years ago is worth 82 cents in today's market. It does not say, however, that the true dollar — when a buck was a buck — is now worth a trifle over thirty cents.

A single bright lining to the dismal cloud is the belief that runaway inflation seems unlikely due to the tight money situation and the government's intention to reduce federal spending in the 1970's.

Here is what has happened to prices during the last eight years. The figures listed below are increases in living costs: 1961—0.6 per cent; 1962—1.2 per cent; 1963—1.7 per cent; 1964—1.1 per cent; 1965—2.0 per cent; 1966—3.3 per cent; 967—3.1 per cent, and 1968 4.7 per cent.

We think that 1969, so far, will top last year. The higher interest rate, the renewal of the income surtax, and other federal pressures will certainly take hold soon. Curtailing federal spending alone would have done the trick if prudence had been introduced when this thing started several years ago.

Record of a Youthful Offender

We get the happy feeling, once in a while, that the pendulum is swinging. Heaven knows that we've laid it on the judges for their share of the blame for the moral decay of the nation's youth.

But it fell to an Oregon judge to remind youngsters of some of the consequences — along with some of their rights — involving illegal escapades.

Through one of our spies came the judge's statement to a couple of youthful offenders. Said he to the malingerers:

"You come from good homes. Yet now you have been convicted of a felony — a crime for which you may be sent to the penitentiary. In this case I do not have to send you to the penitentiary. I am permitted to give you a parole. But even if you never see the inside of a penitentiary or a jail, you will not have escaped the penalties of your crime.

"The record of your conviction will be here as long as the courthouse stands. No amount of good conduct in the future can erase it.

"Next year, or ten years from now or when you are old men, if you are ever called to be a witness in any court of law, some lawyer will point his finger at you and ask: 'Have you ever been convicted of a felony?' You will hang your head and admit that you have for if you deny it, the records of these procedings will be asked for — for the sole purpose of casting doubt on your testimony. Convicted felons are not believed as readily as other persons.

"Someday you will have a chance to work in one of those expanding countries in South America, and you will apply for a passport. You might not get it. You might enter Canada for a fishing trip but you would not be permitted to stay. No country will allow you to become a resident. Your world is much smaller than it was. Someday you may seek a position in civil service of your state or nation. On the application blank you will find this question: 'Have you ever been convicted of a felony?' Your truthful answer must bar you from appointment because appointments are made only after investigation. The record is here to be found by anyone interested.

"In a few years you will be 21, and others your age will have a right to vote — but not you. You will be a citizen of your state and country, but you will have no voice in public affairs. Some day the governor may pardon you and restore your rights, but it is going to be humiliating to ask him. He'll want to know your whole record. It is a bad one.

"I am granting you a parole. You will report to the men who have accepted your parole as often as they may ask. Your convenience is not a matter of importance. You will also obey your parents. If your parents send you to bed at nine o'clock, you will go without complaint. You will perform such tasks as assigned to you. Your parole is a fragile thing. Should the slightest complaint of your conduct reach this court, your parole will be revoked immediately, and you will begin serving your sentence. You will not be brought back here for questioning or explanations. You will be picked up and taken to prison — without notice to you and without delay."

It might be a cruel thing to read this to each youngster as he reaches junior high school but also it might be useful. We also realize that many of them do not need the warning message.

How wonderful it would be if it could be made a part of the understanding of youngsters who are determined to get into trouble. It might make the difference.

Head Start Begins At Golden Ave.

Head Start classes at Lemon Grove's Golden Ave. School kicked off last week with 40 pre-schoolers enrolled.

The children, from economically deprived backgrounds, are divided into two classes of 20 each, with a teacher and a teacher aide supervising each group. Red Cross volunteer help also assists intermittently.

The federally financed program is designed to encourage "social rapport" between the children, according to Molly Allen of San Diego, one of the instructors.

"We try to expose them to many things," she said. "We have field trips every Wednesday."

"We train them in things they should know by this age, reading readiness, number readiness," she continued, "and we teach them sharing. This is one of the biggest things they have to learn."

Also in the program are tests to pinpoint physical problems, such as eye trouble, tooth decay, bone or posture difficulties. If a trouble area is spotted, the parents are notified and often help is arranged with the federal funds.

The classes will continue until August 7 at the school. Mrs. Marie Cutler is the other instructor.

Old Time Committee Schedules Old Fashioned Family Picnic For Old Time 4th of July

More than a thousand picnickers are expected to participate in Lemon Groves Second Annual Old Time Days Community Picnic.

It will be held July Fourth starting at 9 a.m. at the Green Spot Park at Washington and Alton in Lemon Grove.

All Lemon Grovans are invited to bring their families and celebrate.

Picnickers will bring their own food. There are several barbecue pits which may be used. Refreshments, including pop and beer, will be available, according to Noel Hanson, vice president of the Old Time Days Association.

At noon, Lemon Grove VFW Post 2082 will have a flag raising ceremony commemorating Independence Day.

During the day, games and entertainment will occupy fun-seekers. Terrible Harold, the marvelous magician, will put on a magic show that should non-plus the credulous.

Dorman said the picnic is in appreciation for all the aid citizens gave the Old Time Days committee when a record parade was held a month ago.

Hanson said the picnic is an attempt to get people of the community together to bring back some of the old time spirit for which the community is famous.

He said arrangements are being made to accommodate more than a thousand persons.

There will be continuous baseball and football games, he said.

Last year, members of the County Board of Supervisors joined in the festivities.

County Supervisors Approve Record $198,348,897 Budget

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County supervisors on Monday took final action to adopt the final budget for fiscal year 1969-1970 of $198,348,897 by resolution.

The board had already agreed to the record budget and there was no discussion of the details of the budget on Monday.

The amount of money to be raised by sources other than property taxation is $125,901,905.

The secured property tax roll amount needed is $62,302,736 and the unsecured amount is $4,765,000.

Fund balances available for revenue amount to $5,379,256.

Supervisor Jack Walsh objected to the budget resolution coming to the board as an off docket item.

Walsh had proposed that the county delay adoption of the budget until it finds out if the legislature will pass a "tax relief" program.

He said the board should not put itself into a position where one member could block adoption of the off docket budget item.

Lemon Grove Tops $3 Million

New School Budget Includes $150,000 In Salary Increases

Weeks of study didn't change the need for a record budget for the Lemon Grove School District.

Trustees approved the 1969-70 budget Monday night for $3,149,557 — up from last year's $2,831,482.

In this year's budget was a round of raises for all personnel which accounted for $150,000 in increases.

The District had approved, earlier in the month, an increase of 80c in the tax ceiling. 80c will produce about $280,000 Byron Netzley, district superintendent pointed out.

He estimated — and he insisted that the estimate was no more than a wild guess — that about 60c of the 80c ceiling tax would be imposed.

"It depends on what the state does," he said. "During the day (Monday) Sacramento indicated that there would be more school funds available. If that policy is followed, it will ease the local tax pressure."

Trustees worked up to the deadline as many other taxing agencies are doing, trying to find ways to make outgo fit into income. There was no estimate as to what the total tax rate will be pending a figure from the County Assessor on the District's property valuation and the state on school aid.

Included in the raises was a 6% raise for certified employees; 6% for classified employees; 9% for administrative employees, and 10% for the business manager, superintendent, and assistant superintedent.

In money, it was $100,000 more for teachers; $30,000 more for classified personnel and $20,000 for administrative personnel.

Included, too, was an increase in the District's financial support of the employees' health program. The District Teachers' Assn. had asked for the program to be upped from $15.97 a person a month to $23 a month. The board approved a rate increase to $16.44 — an amount equal to the increase in cost of the health insurance now being carried.

The Board also approved a tax-sheltered program for both certificiated and classified employees at no most to the district.

Trustees discussed a lighting district project being developed around the District offices. Members of the Board favored and encouraged such a district as a deterrent to vandalism and crime. Under direction of County Counsel they declined to sign it because the district could not be taxed.

The Board said it would not be realistic to sign a petition knowing that it would not be taxed while property owners in the proposed district would be burdened with whatever costs accrue from the formation.

Head Start Criticism Unjustified, Experts Say

In spite of a national study criticizing Project Head Start, California's tykes in pre-school are achieving successes, two experts told the State Board of Education at its recent (June 12-13 meeting in Sacramento.

Mrs. Jeanada H. Nolan, chief of pre-school education for the State Department of Education, reported on a 15 per cent sampling of the 50,000 California children in the program.

Tests showed that in seven months, the children gained 14 months in intellectual achievement, she said. She called this equivalent to 17 points growth in I.Q. and "very dramatic and positive results."

Additionally, she reported, there have been "spinoff effects" in improved attitude toward school by the children who are now in regular school, and closer parental-school-community relationships.

Dr. Wilson Riles, state director of compensatory education, called a report on a national study of Head Start by Westinghouse Learning Corporation and Ohio University "misleading."

The report, among other conclusions, said that in its present form, Project Head Start "is not worth the month."

Riles said the national report is misleading because it tested academic achievement of children who were in a program for only six weeks and they were not tested until two or three years after they were enrolled in regular school. He noted that the initial goals of Head Start were medical examinations and better nutrition for poverty area children, plus involvement of their parents with schools rather than merely academic attainments.

The national report, while noting the Head Start children were not significantly ahead of non-Head Start children in language development, did emphasize some plusses. Among these were that the children did show improvement in reading readiness.

The study also reported that tykes in the program for a year were "superior" by a "small but statistically significant margin" to non-Head Start pupils.

The national report recommended that Head Start not lose its identity and that children be given a full year rather than six weeks in the program.

Riles agreed with this, and

Graham Crusade Notes Response

Evangelist Billy Graham, speaking at the closing service of his New York Crusade Sunday night, told an audience of 24,000 people that he had noted a "greater and quicker response" to the Gospel in New York than in any other city in the United States.

Speaking of the overflow crowds that had turned out for the ten nights of the Crusade held at the new Madison Square Garden, Graham said, "This shows that there are those who don't want to surrender to secularism, materialism and pornography in this nation."

That statement drew applause from a large crowd which was seated in the Garden and two overflow auditoriums where Dr. Graham was seen on closed circuit color television.

Dr. Graham in his sermon said that signs are pointing to the second coming of Christ, and that current social problems will not be completely solved until Christ returns.

"God is going to come back to save the world because He loves the world," the evangelist said.

Many persons were turned away from Madison Square Garden Sunday night, as they had been all week. On the opening night of the Crusade, June 13, Graham told reporters that he had been "overwhelmed" at the attendance and response to the invitation for persons to come forward to inquire about Christ.

Total attendance in the ten services of the Crusade was 234,000 with more than 11,152 "decisions for Christ" recorded over-all.

The Board of Directors of the Metropolitan Water District approved last week a 1969-70 budget of $192,291,000 an increase of nearly $12 million over the figure for the current fiscal year.

This Sunday

Always and Everywhere

Let no one imagine that it is a strained and unnatural thing for one to pray. The contrary is much closer to the fact. It is far more unnatural for one not to pray. Prayer is one of the most natural of human instincts. Prayer is man's response to the divine will.

Indians Guests Of SD Scouts

One thousand American Indian boys are guests of San Diego County Council at Mataguay Scout Reservation, the first time at any Boy Scout Camp, according to Owen Walker, Council Camping Director, himself of Sioux ancestors.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs and the California Inter Tribal Council have been instrumental in this unique program for the boys, many whom are underprivileged.

The boys, who are not Scouts, are from California, Nevada, Arizona and are between the ages of 12 and 16. "We will show the boys what Scouting is all about during their stay and hope they will want to become members when they get back home," said "Chief" Walker, as he is known by Scouts and Scouters in San Diego County.

Ninety percent of the lads are from Indian Reservations as are their leaders who are now taking pre-camp training.

Camping Out? Better Check Reservations

If you're thinking about camping at a state park or beach this summer and don't have reservations yet, forget it.

It's too late, according to the State Department of Parks and Recreation, in a statement issued last week.

The demand and crush of tourists made it necessary to set a June 30 deadline for applications to campsites. After that, no more reservations will be accepted by the Parks until 1970.

Many of the coastal parks are already booked solid every weekend of the remaining year and, in some cases, every day of the summer.

HS District Retirements Include Area 5

Included among a record number of employe retirements in the Grossmont Union High School District this year were four teachers and one classified employe from area high schools.

Three instructors and the classified employe, a book clerk, worked at Mt. Miguel High School while another teacher served at Monte Vista.

Mary B. Howard has been the book clerk at Mt. Miguel since 1967. She was a charter member of the Miguel Booster Club and was active in the committee which established the football stadium at that school.

Harold Goss, retiring after 41 years of teaching, came from Pennsylvania to the district in 1957. He has taught English at Grossmont, Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista. Trained as a life insurance salesman and counselor, he plans an active retirement.

A retired rear admiral, Walter Linaweaver began his second career as a math teacher at Mt. Miguel. He is a 1926 graduate from Anapolis.

Another math teacher at Miguel, Hayes Luna, had three careers. He served as a pastor for the First Christian Church, became a Lt. Colonel in the Army and joined the Miguel teaching staff in 1958.

Beginning her career in 1928, Mildred Sawyer has taught math at Grossmont, El Cajon and Mt. Miguel High Schools. She has worked in the district since 1947, leaving for one year to teach for her church in Umtale in Southern Rhodesia.

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

What is the difference between "mio" and "mi" and how are they used? Also, do "tuyo" and "suyo" have the same meaning?

"Mio" means "mine" and "mi" means "my." We might say 'Es mio." for "It is mine." We can say "Es mi libro." to indicate "It is my book." Usually "mi" precedes the noun it modifies as in the case of "Mi coche es azul." (My car is blue.) and "No es mi pelota." (It is not my ball.).

"Mio" is most frequently found in the predicate of a phrase such as "El lapiz es mio." (The pencil is mine.) or "La casa es mia." (The house is mine.). The ending letter of this pronoun may change from "o" to "a"dependent upon the noun being modified. An example may be seen in the above cases where the pronoun is "mia" when it modifies "casa," and "mio" when it modifies "el lapiz."

"Tuyo" and "suyo" both mean "yours." We use "tuyo" when talking to loved ones and children. We use "suyo" when we talk to adults. Thus we say "Es tuyo." (It is yours.) to a child and "Es suyo."(It is yours.) to an adult.

Today's practice phrases contain some of the interesting pronouns referred to above. See how easy it will be for you to learn to say them with the recorded voice when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Leaving California For Vacation? Don't Bring Back Plant Material

If you're planning a vacation trip this year back home to see the folks, or a world tour or just to our next-door neighbor, Mexico, James M. Moon San Diego County Agricultural Commissioner, recommends that you omit plant materials from the souvenirs you bring back.

It is hard to resist bringing back a favorite plant from Aunt Min's garden, or an exotic fruit, but you could at the same time bring back one of the ten thousand or so plant pests that could be a threat to the State's more than $4 billion agricultural industry. Even the packing material wrapped around other souvenirs can provide a hiding place for stowaway bugs.

Moon said that as our society becomes more mobile, and the speed of movment increases, so does the ability of plant pests to spread with great rapidity. These hitchhiking bugs often arrive on the most innocent looking fruits and plants carried by travelers, and they may eventually cause millions of dollars in damage to crops, ornamental plantings, and forests.

Throughout the State of California, Federal, State, and County plant quarantine officers keep a vigilant eye on the daily movement of thousands of lots of plants and plant products. Last year, San Diego County Department of Agriculture Inspectors checked 41,000 shipments of plant materials.

"Of these," Moon said, "300 shipments were rejected for failure to meet plant quarantine requirements or because they were infested with plant pests."

Each year, the State Plant Quarantine Border Stations intercept an average of 72,000 lots of contraband materials or ones obviously infested with pests.

These border stations are one of California's first lines of defense against the introduction of harmful plant and animal pests, and although they sometimes seem an inconvenience, remember they are there for the protection of your food and your garden.

"So," Moon said, "enjoy your vacation, but please don't bring home new plant pests to add to those already residing in California."

Spring Valley Junior High students in an end-of-the-year activity raised $246 to help pay hospital expenses for Tommy Buchman, Lakeside child bitten in early April by a bobcat and now critically ill from rabies.

Proceeds came from a "slave day" and a bake and dill pickle sale. Idea for the slave day came from students in a Spanish class taught by Giulio Boccia, according to "Highlights," the school newspaper. The idea spread.

Top "slave" for the day was seventh grader John Parrott. Competition was outbid when a group of girls pooled their resources and won a high bid of $15.50.

Slaves, marked with arm, head and leg bands, carried books, opened doors and did other tasks for their "owners". Bill Kennerly, English-social science teacher, and James Gray, vice principal, were drafted to conduct the slave auction.

Run For Health, Family Fun

The many health-conscious adults who run for exercise in Balboa Park will have company soon. A jogging program is being planned by the San Diego Recreation Department open to anyone of any age interested in improving general health and physical appearance.

Joggers will meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5:15 p.m. near the intersection of Sixth and Laurel sts in Balboa Park. Running will continue until 6:30 p.m. with joggers invited to join at any time or drop out at any time.

"This program is particularly designed for family participation," according to its director, Mary Ann Oberle of the Department. "We also hope to interest business people who find it difficult to exercise after working hours."

Men, women, children and pets — provided dogs are on leashes — are invited to join jogging leader Donna Gookin on the three-time-a-week runs. Loose fitting attire and tennis shoes are recommended.

Miss Oberle also recommends that those participating consult first with their doctors.

The program will last all through summer if interest continues, she said.

FANCY FLINGER — Mount Miguel athlete Billy Joe Winchester gets his powerful right arm behind a discus throw. Billy Joe, who made news of all sorts for the Matador spikers this spring, isn't through yet. He garnered a first and a third in the discus and shot at San Diego State Saturday.

Billy Joe, Steve D. Still Tossing, Winning

Billy Joe Winchester and Steve Dougherty, a pair of Mt. Miguel High School athletes who threw a lot of weight around during the just-completed track season, are still at it.

Both threw the college-weight shot and discus Saturday afternoon at an all-comers meet at San Diego State. Between them, they each won an event, Winchester the disc and Dougherter the shot.

Dougherty was also runner-up in the discus, but Winchester was third in the shot, as San Diego State shotputter Dave Colegrove sandwiched himself between the two muscular Matadors for second in that event.

Winchester's marks with the heavier college implements were 148-1 (discus) and 48-5½ (shot). Both are far below his excellent marks of 180-feet and 62-2 3/4 recorded earlier this year with lighter weights.

The college, or open, shot is 16 pounds compared to the high school weight of 12. The discus is 4.6 pounds and the high school platter is 3.7. Marks in the shot usually differ by at least 10 feet.

Which would make Dougherty's shot mark of 49-9½ impressive enough. He doubled with 146-9.

Dougherty will be throwing at Stanford next year (he was an execllent student) but college recruiters will have to drool another year before they can touch Winchester. He's a junior.

Other area entrants in the meet included four Helix athletes.

Ed Mendoza, the sophomore two-miler, entered the high-school mile and ran away from the field to clock 4:25, winning by 18 seconds. The time is the smallish Highlander's first open mile clocking of the season, although he had run 4:27 in a relay at Sweetwater.

He is the county record holder for the two-mile by a sophomore, running the distance in 9:13.6 at the state championships at UCLA last month.

Dean Jacobs and Ron Hartegan entered the horizontal jumps. Jacobs took the long jump with 20-7 and was fourth in the triple jump with 36-9. Hartegan was third in both, bounding 19-10½ and 41-1½.

Jacobs also was second in the high school high hurdles, clocking 16.4.

Robin Schultz was the high school three-mile winner in 16:28.2, leaving his opposition over two minutes behind.

Internal Revenue Questions, Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — A company I interviewed about a job has offered to pay my expenses if I will visit their headquarters. If I take the money will it be taxable for me?

A — Money received as a reimbursement for travel expenses incurred in being interviewed for possible employment is not taxable and does not have to be reported. However, if the reimbursement is more than your expenses the excess is taxable.

Q — I was just bill for taxes I've already paid. What should I do?

A — The bill you received was most probably issued before your payment had been credited to your account.

However, if your payment was made more than four weeks ago return the notice or a copy and indicate on it when the payment was made and where it was sent. If you paid by check and the check has been endorsed and returned to you, indicate the number stamped on the check by IRS and the date.

Q — I'm taking a job as a waitress at a resort hotel. Will the tips I make count as income?

A — Yes, tips are taxable income and do have to be reported.

If your tips amount to $20 a month or more, they will also be credited for Social Security purposes. In that case they should be reported to your employer so that he can make the necessary adjustments in your withholding.

Q — Can I get the man who prepared my return to represent me when I appeal my tax case?

A — It depends on his qualifications. If the tax adviser is a certified public accountant, a lawyer or has passed a special examination given by the Treasury Department, then he can represent you. Someone without these qualifications but who prepared the return, can assist the taxpayer during the examination of the return but not thereafter.

Q — I received several thousand dollars in cash as wedding gifts. Do my husband and I have to pay income tax on this money?

A — No, the recipient of gifts is not liable for income tax. If you deposit the money in a savings account, however, the interest earned will be taxable just like other interest. Persons making a gift may have to pay a gift tax, depending on the value of the gift.

LG JrHi's Margaret Lemmer President of Cal Teachers Assn.

Mrs. Margaret L. Lemmer English teacher at Lemon Grove Jr. High School, Lemon Grove, took over Tuesday as new president of the 170,000 member California Teachers Association (CTA).

Mrs. Lemmer said her major goal while in office is to emphasize the positive gains of education in California while not whitewashing the need for improved schools if we are to meet the challenges of increased automation and social changes.

"Schools in California and the nation face one of the greatest dilemmas in their history," she said. "They are being made the scapegoats of irresponsible activists at both extremes of the political spectrum."

Mrs. Lemmer explained that some of the current student and teacher dissatisfaction is justified. But when this protest results in violence, the public and lawmakers have a tendency to overreact and take their own frustrations out on the schools.

"To penalize the majority of hard-working students and teachers because of the violent activities of a few represents a dangerous emotional approach to problems," she said.

"For it will not help our children if, because of frustrations over protests, the public in pique, withdraws financial and other kinds of support from its public schools. Such emotional action makes the many pay for the sins of the few and damages the whole society."

Mrs. Lemmer said that while education today is doing a good job, it must be improved and quickly to meet the challenges of tomorrow.

"Greater percentages of students now complete more years of schooling than at any time in the nation's history," she said. "As a nation we lead the world in technology, in wealth, in health and possibly in humanism.

"But we are not moving fast enough to educate our children for tomorrow's world of greater technology and the need for greater understanding of peoples of different races and cultures.

"Many teachers realize these future needs. They know how far the schools must go. They also know that society places on the schools, more than any other public agency, the responsibility for showing the way to meet these crucial needs. So teachers are demanding the support they need to meet their responsibility.

"Teachers are concerned over large class sizes. We are concerned that many of our pupils need special help in reading and other basics, which they cannot get in our traditional large classes.

"We are also concerned over the need for competitive salaries and fringe benefits for we know that to attract the top talent to teaching schools must be able to compete with business and industry," Mrs. Lemmer declared.

Mrs. Lemmer praised California's Winton Act — negotiations law — for helping teachers and the CTA work through approved channels for the improvements they see needed in education.

"California has avoided major teacher strikes because the CTA seeks improvements through negotiation, avoiding confrontation if at all possible. These CTA policies are made by elected representatives.

"It is a very democratic process and one which gives educators in this state's classrooms a chance to unify their voices in fulfilling their roles in determining who shall teach, what shall be taught and how it shall be taught," Mrs. Lemmer said.

She stressed that there is a new breed of teachers who are demanding a voice in controlling their profession, as do those in medicine, law and other professions.

"New teachers and many of us older ones have come to realize we are well-educated and well-informed persons. No longer will we take the subservient roles of yesteryear's 'schoolmarms' and 'schoolmasters.'

Death Trial Recess Called For S.V. Man

The trial of Spring Valley truck driver Rex Arthur Spross for the murder of a blind Chula Vista newsstand operator has been recessed until Monday.

The case is being heard by Superior Court Judge Howard B. Turrentine.

Spross has been charged with the murder of Robert (Blind Bob) Anderson, 40, Dec. 12. His brutally beaten body was found by his mother Mary, who testified that she and her son had refused to make a loan of $1,000 to Spross. They had made a $700 loan to him two weeks earlier.

Spross, 29, had asked for the money to keep him out of jail for selling stolen cigarettes, she said.

Property Value Up in County

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A county wide assessment increase of 10.5 per cent to $2.438 billion was announced by E. C. Williams, County Assessor.

It will lessen the property tax requirement by $5,604,000.

The county has presently a revenue gap of $4,675,000 and a tax increase as much as 15 cents might be needed to close it. The present rate is $2.37 per $100 assessed valuation.

Bank of America Building in Watts

Bank of America announced plans to build a large, modern full-service branch in the heart of the 1965 Watts riot area.

Construction will begin this summer at Central avenue and East 103rd street just south of Will Rogers Memorial Park, according to Board Chairman Louis B. Lundborg.

The proposed will be one of only two banks in Watts and the first built in the community since 1917.

Builders Emporium Complete; Largest Store In SV Center

Completion of the shell building for a new 34,953 square foot Builders Emporium do-it-yourself store in the Spring Valley Shopping Center, Jamacha blvd. and Gillespie dr., was announced last week by Pacific Coast Properties, original developers of the 23-acre Spring Valley retail complex.

Designed by architect Leroy B. Miller, A.I.A., and being built by Ernest W. Hahn, Inc., general contractors, the new store is one of six complete retail outlets for do-it-yourself tools, hardware and supplies scheduled for completion in 1969 by Builders Emporium.

Fixturizing of the $300,000 building is expected to begin in July with the grand opening scheduled for mid-August.

Everett E. Young, president of the 23-year-old home improvement supplies firm said, "With the completion of this store there will be 24 locations in Southern California where the do-it-yourselfer, handyman and craftsman can find everything for home maintenance and improvement."

The new Spring Valley building is constructed of masonry walls topped by a glulam beam-supported panelized roof system. A cedar-shingled canopy ties the unit architecturally to the rest of the shopping center.

The largest store in the Spring Valley complex, Builders Emporium joins a 33,000 square foot Food Giant Market; a 30,000 square foot S. S. Kresge junior department store; a 14,500 square foot Sav-On Drug Store; a 5,500 square foot Bank of America branch office, and 42,000 square feet of satellite shops.

Pacific Coast Properties recently sold the center to United California Bank but it continues to own and manage two other prominent shopping complexes in the greater San Diego area — Campus Shopping Center, a 96,000 square foot development located near San Diego State College; and Pacific Plaza Shopping Center, a 200,000 square foot mini-regional center in Pacific Beach.

The firm has also developed neighborhood and regional centers in Los Angeles and Orange Counties.

Builders Emporium is the largest chain of its kind in the Western United States, featuring departmentalized stores offering hand and power tools, electrical and plumbing supplies, lumber, paints and paint supplies, hardware, and garden and nursery items.

Also pet supplies, patio and pool furnishings and equipment, house and giftwares, wheel goods, sporting equipment, toys, discount records, unfinished furniture, automotive supplies and various decorative items.

Services include the cutting of wire, glass, pipe, keys and lumber and custom paint mixing.

Builders Emporium personnel are trained in various building trades, hobbies and crafts, home maintenance and improvement, and offer free, expert advice and recommendations on such things as landscaping, installation of sprinkler systems, carpentry, painting, and similar projects.

Stores are open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays, and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

Head Start Criticism

stressed that one of the problems is that there is no follow-through in kindergarten and primary grades.

"Youngsters came out of that pre-school program and then went into a kindergarten that was not prepared for this new kind of child," Riles said. "The kindergarten teacher said, 'What am I supposed to do with them? They already have had all I was supposed to teach.' So what did they do? Many just let them sit there."

Mrs. Nolan noted that U. S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert Finch has said summer sessions for Head Start are too short; that children should start at an earlier age, and that there should be more follow-through programs.

Dr. Miguel Montes, state board member, pointed out that pre-school programs should be made available to more children, since, due to lack of funds, only about 50,000 of the 150,000 tykes who qualify are now being reached.
